At County Board

Discuss Improving Court House Grounds, Enlarging Parking Area

Atty. Don Scott and Wayne Gidcumb appeared before the Saline County Board of Supervisors Tuesday to discuss improving the court house grounds and enlarging the parking area on the north side of the court house and Chairman Kenneth Jackson (R Long Branch) suggested that the board's Building and Finance committees work out some kind of program for the next fiscal year.

"There is no question that the entire board is in agreement with what has been said," Jackson stated.

Atty. Scott, representing the Harrisburg Rotary club, said he was sure he could get co-operation from the city of Harrisburg on such a program.

Parking Proposal

Gidcumb, speaking of enlarging the parking area, suggested taking the space from the building north to the sidewalk for parking and applying a permanent surfacing.

"A proper grade and good surfacing would eliminate gravel washing from the lot down onto the sidewalks and streets," he said.

Gidcumb estimated 32 cars could be parked on the north side of the court house if the lot were laid out correctly.

Aubrey Giles (D Eldorado) said he would like to see the building sandblasted to improve its appearance and suggested possibly a community venture in which many people would pitch in and improve the county property.

Ewell Winkelman (R Harrisburg) said he believed that an appropriation should be set up to improve the property over a period of years.

Contract Approved

The board, with 14 voting in favor and two voting "present" approved the preparation of a contract with Paul Massey of Eldorado for Massey to take over the house, barn and some land at the county farm property. Action was taken after A. K. Gates (R Cottage) said Massey had the best of five sealed bids received by the Poor Farm committee. Massey's bid was to pay $60 a month for the use of the property. Next best bid was $35.50 a month.

Bids were taken after the present occupant, Mrs. Anna Knickerbocker, announced that she desired to give up the place Sept. 24. The approval of the overall three-county budget, and the appropriation and levy ordinances for the Egyptian Health Department were held up until next meeting after they were presented by Atty. L. M. Hancock.

Upon motion by Giles, the board voted 10 to 9 along strict party lines to hold them up after Giles said he thought the board should know where the money is going before it could vote intelligently.

Other Action

Chairman Jackson, after the vote, stated that a two-thirds vote would be needed to postpone an action. Nevertheless, postponement was in effect.

Other board action:

The claim of the Belleville auditing firm, Rice and Bedel, for $5,632.24, was held up. The firm prepared a special audit at the request of a circuit court grand jury, the material being used in the trial of County Clerk Don B. Garrison, tried for embezzlement and acquitted by a jury.

The monthly report of County Treasurer Maynard Cannon was accepted.

Jury lists were approved. Road and bridge levies were approved and resolutions calling for construction of bridges in Galatia and Carrier Mills townships with the county matching township funds were adopted.

The Grand jury report on condition of the jail was read and the Building committee was instructed to look into the matter.

The report of County Mine Inspector J. H. Pittman was accepted.

R. E. Field (R Carrier Mills) of the Purchasing committee reported a new drinking fountain and other material for the court house had been bought.

Suspend Proceedings in Court To Determine Oil, Mineral Rights

Proceedings in the action in chancery to quiet the title of about 2,800 acres of land that formerly comprised the Webber estate in the Galatia area were suspended by agreement in Saline county circuit court Tuesday.

The action came after C. Ross Reynolds, the presiding judge, explained that he had passed on a matter in 1948 that was related to the action, Reynolds et al vs. Burns et al. It pertained to the ruling out of Lloyd Reynolds as a trustee of the estate by Judge Reynolds.

Judge Reynolds, after a day of evidence, told the large number of attorneys in the case that he wanted them to know that he had acted in 1948 and conferences of lawyers resulted.

So a stipulation was drawn up suspending the present trial proceedings. It stated that a record of the proceedings up to the time of the halt should be submitted to another judge at a trial to be held later, with parties proceeding from the point of suspension. It said the record of proceedings should be considered as heard by the new judge who will hear the case. The new judge will be one from this circuit, which means he will be either Judge Harold L. Zimmerman of Marion or Judge Clarence E. Wright of Carbondale.

The action was started to determine ownerships of oil and other mineral rights because there are five producing wells on the property with about $200,000 tied up in oil income, about $30,000 of which was due to royalty holders.

Defendants are listed as William Jackson Burns, Evelyn Rose Burns, Leah M. Webber, Margaret W. Hahne, J. H. Hahne, Arthur Eugene Webber, Mary Willie Webber, T. W. Webber, Laura June Webber, George R. Stone, A. L. Fowler, Lynn Cable, D. E. Cavender, Dwight Organ, Cyrus Cable, Margaret Cable, Edward T. Robinson and Richard McDonald.

The case was being heard without a jury. The estate was left by the late A. J. Webber, who died Nov. 4, 1910. He left a widow and two children, J. Henry Webber and May O. Burns, now all deceased.

Judge Reynolds was back in court today to hear more non jury matters. All jury cases scheduled for this term have been taken off the docket and Judge Reynolds said all persons who had been called for jury service should not report until notified to do so.

Arrest Segregationist Kasper Third Time; Gov. Faubus Rests

Cancels Plans For Statewide Radio Hookup

Situation Quiet As Governor Continues Defiance

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus, weary from his bout with the federal government over his refusal to permit school integration here, cancelled all schedules today and went to bed for a rest.

Faubus, under federal injunction subpena for his continued defiance of court orders to remove National Guard troops from a school, had been scheduled to appear on a statewide radio hookup today.

The governor, who has been ordered to a hearing on the injunction matter Sept. 20, had planned to submit to telephoned questions from listeners in an effort to have their guidance about his future course.

Arnold Sikes, administrative assistant to Faubus, said the governor at first objected to calling off the broadcast but "realized there was nothing new to report and that the situation was stalemated" until the subpoena hearing.

All was quiet today at both Central High, where a few National Guardsmen lolled around the area, and at North Little Rock High where there was a tense integration incident earlier in the week.

A spokesman in his office said Faubus was not ill but had gone to bed for the day to get a much needed rest.

Other Developments

His decision to continue his defiance of the federal courts and the U. S. Justice Department came amid these developments on the integration scene:

Birmingham — The Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, beaten by white men when he tried to take Negro children to a white school, abandoned his integration plans temporarily.

Washington — Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.) said he will introduce soon after Congress reconvenes in January a bill barring use of National Guardsmen as "the personal army or storm troop unit of a governor."

Newport — President Eisenhower apparently was sticking to his policy of patience in the handling of the Little Rock dispute.

Washington — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) called on Eisenhower to step up the newly authorized federal civil rights commission immediately. It would investigate civil rights complaints and possibly recommend any needed legislation.

Washington — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles expressed concern over the effect the Arkansas school fight would have on U. S. international relations.

Durham Rites at Hebron Thursday

The funeral of F. G. (Buddy) Durham, 86, formerly of the Hebron community, near Walpole, who died in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Alcide Tate, of East Alton, Tuesday morning, will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. Rev. Charlie Hedges of Norris City will officiate and the services will be held in the Hebron church where he was a member. Burial will be in the church cemetery. He is survived by his wife, Nancy; his daughter, Mrs. Tate; his son, Leon Durham of South Roxana; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The body will lie in state at the Courtney funeral home in Galatia until time for the funeral.

Raymond Butts Rites At Ridgway Thursday

The funeral of Raymond Butts, 38, former resident of the Ridgway-Shawneetown community who died in Waukegan Monday, will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday. Rev. L. C. Irby will officiate at the funeral services in the Ridgway Baptist church. Burial will be in the Westwood cemetery at Shawneetown. Mr. Butts is survived by his wife, Margaret, of Waukegan, and his father, James Butts of Ridgway.

The body will lie in state at the Cox funeral home in Ridgway until time for the funeral.

'Regrettable Legislation'

President Signs New Immigration Law, Calls It a Disappointment

NEWPORT, R. I. (UP)—President Eisenhower signed the new immigration law today, but he called it "regrettable" legislation.

"This measure, while making improvements in present practices, is a disappointment in that it fails to deal with many of the serious inequities inherent in the Immigration and Nationality Act," the President said in a statement accompanying his approval of the bill.

The President signed the bill because it put into effect some of his recommendations to Congress last January.

But he objected to the failure of Congress to grant permanent residence to Hungarian refugees, and the fact that the bill did not establish policies on admitting refugees and escapees from persecution and oppression.

The bill allows 60,000 aliens, over and above present immigration quotas, to come into the country during the next two years if they can establish "hardship" cases.

Eisenhower wanted a much broader overhaul of the immigration law. He said today his recommendations of last January should be "promptly considered" by the next session of Congress.

The law contains a provision allowing the government to waive the fingerprinting now required of visitors who are not immigrants. Russia has bitterly attacked this fingerprinting rule. Its revision was part of Eisenhower's Jan. 31 request to Congress.

Another clause would allow up to 50 foreign diplomats a year who break with their governments to apply for permanent residence here, subject to approval by the U. S. attorney general and to veto by Congress.

The President signed the bill in his small office here on the Newport Navy base. He decided, too, that because of heavy, early morning rain he would not play golf today.

Rule Out Of Williams

Decision by Judge Reynolds To Be Appealed

Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds today ruled in favor of the removal of Don Williams from the Harrisburg city council but Trafton Dennis, Williams' attorney, said that he would appeal the decision.

Williams was named in quo warranto proceedings filed by Mayor Claud Gibbons and Commissioner Morris Darnell, who sought to have him removed from the council on grounds that Williams had moved outside the city limits since his election. The proceedings were filed for Gibbons and Darnell by Atty. Lloyd H. Melton.

The proceedings in court this morning were brief. In an amend-

Maxwell House Cuts Prices of Coffee

HOBOKEN, N. J. (UP)—The Maxwell House division of General Foods Corp. today announced immediate wholesale price cuts of 2 and 3 cents a pound on its regular grocery-pack ground coffees.

Its Maxwell House and Sanka brands have been reduced 3 cents a pound, and its Yuban and Bliss coffee 2 cents.

Albert Ehlers immediately followed the Maxwell House move and cut its vacuum tin coffee 3 cents to 92 cents a pound, effective immediately.

B. D. Russell, 94, Retired Teacher, Carpenter, Dies

B. D. Russell, 94, a retired school teacher and carpenter, died in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Audrey Turner, 23 West Logan street, Harrisburg, at 9:15 p. m. Tuesday. He had taught school in Saline county for 30 years and following his retirement from teaching, was a carpenter for the Blue Bird coal company. He was married in 1894 to the former Miss Penelope Ramsey and of the three children of this marriage, two survive. They are Mrs. Turner, in whose home he died and Loral Russell of Carrier Mills. Addie Russell died in infancy. Mrs. Penelope Russell died in 1899 and Mr. Russell was married in 1913 to the former Miss Irene Greeley, who survives. Six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, also survive.

He was a member of the Christian church.

The body will lie in state at the Harrisburg funeral home and the funeral will be held there, at 2 p. m. Thursday. Rev. Ernest Ammon will officiate and burial will be in the No. 7 cemetery, north of Carrier Mills.

Judge Didn't Know All the Facts

CARDIFF, Wales (UP)—Judge Guy Sixsmith let Herbert Hooley off with a light $5.60 fine for speeding Tuesday when Hooley said he was unemployed.

Hooley paid the fine immediately. Then he left the courtroom, climbed into his new Jaguar, drove to his new $28,000 home and changed out of his $112 custom-tailored suit.

What Hooley did not tell the judge was that he quit his job after winning $210,000 in a lottery.

"He might have thought I was boasting," Hooley explained.

Woman Killed Near Goreville

GOREVILLE, Ill. (UP)—A Route 2 Carbondale woman was killed and her husband and daughter injured in an auto-truck collision near here shortly before noon today.

Marion Memorial hospital authorities identified the dead woman as Mrs. Grace Dillinger. Her husband, Bert, suffered minor injuries. The injuries of her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Moment, 47, of Herrin, were described as serious.

Authorities said that Dillinger told them that a truck driven by Leroy Belt, 38, Harrisburg RFD 1, made a left hand turn in front of his southbound car about a mile and a half north of Goreville on Route 37.

Search for Man For Boosting Money Order

Authorities today were looking for a man who raised a fifty cent postal money order to $44.50 and cashed it.

The sheriff's office said that the person, who gave his name as "Charles Davis" and who gave Harrisburg as his address, purchased a fifty-cent money order at the post office at Raleigh.

The order then was raised to $44.50, they said, and taken to the Lee Wright watch shop on Sloan street, where he bought a $15 watch and gave the money order, getting the change.

After he had departed Wright noticed that the money order was written on a form upon which was printed "not for over $5" and he called authorities.

He said the man was about six feet tall, weighed about 180 pounds and wore brown overalls and a cap.

Sister of Harry Boggess Dies

Miss Clytie Boggess, 54, sister of Harry Boggess of Harrisburg, died at 9:45 p. m. Monday in the Herrin City hospital. The body is in the care of the Murman-Wilson funeral home at Johnston City and the funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday at the Johnston City Baptist church. Rev. Barnett Williams will officiate and burial will be in the I.O.O.F. cemetery at Marion.

Held Without Bond on Charge Inciting Violence

To Be Arrested Repeatedly Until He Leaves Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Police jailed roving segregationist John Kasper without bond today on charges of inciting violence that accompanied the integration of first graders at Nashville schools.

A few hours later, authorities arrested five Negroes in a station wagon which contained a number of shotguns and pistols. The vehicle was parked near an area where three of Nashville's newly integrated elementary schools are located.

Kasper's arrest was his third within a 12-hour period. City and county authorities told the 27-year-old wanderer he will be arrested repeatedly until he gets out of the racially tense Nashville area and stays out.

Davidson County officials brought the new charge against Kasper, basing it, they said, on his display of a noose at a Monday night segregation rally in front of the state Capitol here. Shortly after the rally broke up, terrorists dynamited one of the city's seven schools where racial integration at the first grade level had begun the previous morning.

Attendance appeared to be up over Tuesday's light turnout when classes opened this morning. The third day of a gradual integration plan devised by local school authorities. Officials hoped that a vigorous police crackdown on troublemakers of both races would bring an early end to the city's racial difficulties.

Up until this morning, there had been 33 arrests in connection with the racial turmoil including the jailing Tuesday of five men in connection with the school dynamiting.

The police crackdown on Kasper and other suspected rowdy elements was begun after violence and disorder spread over the city, particularly around the integrated schools where 6 and 7-year-olds were having a hectic time beginning their first year of education.

Police Chief Douglas Hosse warned Kasper that he will be put behind bars every day until he proves he is employed. He can be held without bond for 72 hours on the new charge against him.

It appeared also that damage to the Hattie Cotton School may not have been so great as was thought at first. Margaret Cate, principal of the school, said "We hope we shall be holding classes here by the end of this week. They tell us the damage in nine classrooms was not too great."

The Fehr School in downtown Nashville was a prime trouble spot Tuesday for the second straight day. A rock fight broke out at one point, and police arrested two Negro men, one of them a preacher alleged to have been carrying a pistol.

Investigators reported meanwhile they had learned nothing definite about the dynamiting but "we are digging and digging." Six men are being held for questioning in the case.

Miss Ann Hart of Marion Becomes Bride of Ronald Keith McLaughlin

Mrs. Ronald Keith McLaughlin

(Foster Studio Photo)

Miss Virginia Ann Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hart, 422 Bainbridge Rd., Marion, and Ronald Keith McLaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McLaughlin, 108 Roseland Drive, Vicksburg, Miss., were married in the Franklin County Country club at seven o'clock in the evening, August 25. The Rev. William Burroughs, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Harrisburg, performed the double-ring ceremony before a white wrought-iron wedding arch, decorated with greenery and white chrysanthemums, flanked on either side by tall candelabras bearing burning white tapers and vases of white chrysanthemums.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a wedding gown of white organza, fashioned with a fitted bodice of hand embroidered eyelet having a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves. The bouffant floor-length skirt was made of six tiers, each tier bordered with the eyelet organza and ending in a short train at the back. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was secured to a tiara of pearls. She wore white kid gloves, embroidered with pearls, pearl earrings, and a pearl medallion, gift of the bridegroom. She carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis and yellow roses.

Preceding the marriage ceremony, Keith Pierce played organ selections, "Chant D'Amour," "Evening Star and Dreams," "Romance," "Because," "I Love You Truly," "Serenade" and "O Promise Me."

Miss Frankie Hart, sister of the bride, served as her maid of honor. Her dress was of lemon yellow organza, styled with an eyelet bodice and embroidery similar to that of the bride's. She wore a yellow flowered tiara and a face veil. Her mitts matched her dress and she carried a crescent arrangement of white chrysanthemums and yellow tea roses.

Miss Jean Reed, Jacksonville, Fla., cousin of the bride, was her bridesmaid and Miss Jane Hart, sister of the bride, was her junior bridesmaid. Their dresses and flowers were exact duplicates of that of the maid of honor.

The bridegroom chose his father to act as best man.

Carl Brock, Vicksburg, Miss., and Charles Boatright, Marion, were ushers. The men in the wedding party wore white summer tuxedos and carnation boutonnieres. The bridegroom wore a sprig of stephanotis for his boutonniere.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of yellow lace and a feathered hat. Her corsage was a white orchid with a yellow center.

The bridegroom's mother wore a rose colored chiffon dress and a feathered hat. Her purple centered orchid was worn for a corsage.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony, there was a dinner for the guests at th country club. The tables were centered with yellow flowers and there were yellow mints bearing the names of the bride and groom.

The four-tiered wedding cake graced the bride's table, and was circled with yellow rosebuds. The table was covered with an embroidered white organdy cloth and draped with yellow satin. Wedding bells and white chrysanthemums were used for added decoration. Punch and cake were served at a reception following the dinner.

Keith Pierce played during the dinner and dancing.

The bridal couple included a Caribbean cruise in their honeymoon itinerary.

The bride was graduated from Louisiana State University with a B. A. degree in speech. She is a member of Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority and the Tau Kappa Alpha and Alpha Lambda honorary societies. She will enroll in the Law school at the University of Mississippi for the fall term.

Mr. McLaughlin, graduate of the Louisiana State University, is a student of law at the University of Mississippi and is a member of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin will make their home in Mississippi.

Visitors in Home of Former Harrisburg Residents

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Young, formerly of Harrisburg, now residents of Battle Creek, Mich., had guests during August, which included Mrs. Young's mother, Mrs. Hattie Burklow, who also visited five of her grandchildren in Battle Creek: Mr. and Mrs. Thorai Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Young, Mr. and Mrs. William Oliver, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Young.

The mother and grandmother in the home celebrated her 76th birthday at a gathering of the children and grandchildren, during this period. The celebration in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Young was marked by the presentation of many gifts and the singing of the birthday song.

Mr. and Mrs. Wick Wise attended the party as they were on a vacation in Michigan, and they extended their tour to the straits area of northern Michigan, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thorai Davis. They also visited the Cascades at Jackson, Mich., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Michael H. Young and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Young. They went through the Kellogg plant and visited the arboretum and bird sanctuary, with Mrs. Ralph Lane.

Mr. and Mrs. Wise, accompanied by Mrs. Wise's mother, visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burklow and son in Gary, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster, on the homeward trip.

Other guests in the Charlie Young home during August were: Mr. and Mrs. E. Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Oliver with their daughters, Beth and Sherrel, Hazel, called in the Charlie Young home, while they were visiting their son's family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sittig, in Battle Creek.

SIU to Offer Adult Classes in Rosiclare Area

Adult night classes in physical education for women, intermediate shorthand, and stocks, bonds and investments will be offered to Rosiclare area residents during the next three months by the Southern Illinois University Division of Technical and Adult Education. Registration for the non-credit courses, given in cooperation with Rosiclare Community high school, will be held at 7 p. m. Monday, Sept. 16, in the high school. Tuition and fees are payable at registration, but Illinois veterans may present a photostatic copy of discharge papers in lieu of cash payment.

Classes will meet one night a week for 12 weeks. No previous educational experience is required for registration.

"Stocks, Bonds and Investments" is designed for the small investor who wishes guidance in savings plans, investment plans and purchase of stocks. The physical education course combines theory and participation.

The schedule, with meeting times and fees:

Physical education for women—Mondays, 7-9:30 p. m., $10.50.

Intermediate shorthand — Mondays, 7-9:30 p. m., $17.10.

Stocks, bonds, and investments—Mondays, 7-9 p. m., $12.

SIU Rehabilitation Institute Awarded Grant of $54,841

CARBONDALE, Ill.—Southern Illinois University's newly established Rehabilitation Institute has been awarded a $54,841 grant from the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation to be used for teaching and traineeship stipends in its graduate counseling program during the coming year.

The grant, one of the largest of its kind ever given by the federal agency, provides for 17 individual graduate-study stipends worth $1,600 and three others worth $2,400 available to advanced students in rehabilitation counselor training. The stipends cover nine months of schooling. Applications are now being accepted by Dr. Guy Renzaglia, director of the Institute. Qualified applicants must have maintained a "B" average in undergraduate studies at any accredited university.

The OVR grant will be extended two more years—through 1960—when funds are made available by Congress, Renzaglia said. In addition, Southern will contribute $11,285 from internal funds to support the program through the first year.

SIU is one of 29 universities in the nation selected for an OVR training grant in the counseling field. Southern's two-year program leads to a master's degree in rehabilitation counseling, an area of almost unlimited professional opportunity according to Renzaglia. Students are trained in the vocational and personal adjustment of physically, mentally and emotionally handicapped persons, working in psychotherapy, physio-therapy, testing, guidance, speech and hearing therapy, and other related areas.

Norman C. Green, former chief therapist at the Veterans Administration hospital, Vancouver, Wash., has been employed as the Institute's physical therapist. A professional social worker will be added to the staff this month.

52,234 Receive Surplus Food in Downstate Areas

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—A total of 548,164 pounds of federal surplus foods was distributed to 52,234 persons in 26 downstate counties during August, the Illinois Public Aid Commission reported today.

The surplus food was valued at $125,485, the commission said. It included beans, cheese, cornmeal, dry milk, flour and rice. The surplus food was distributed to persons under the various public assistance programs, or to others temporarily in need of help.

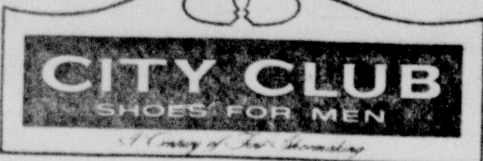

A breakdown of the counties and the number of recipients in each county follows:

Alexander 1,942, Bond 405, Christian 1,538, Clinton 486, Franklin 6,058, Fulton 1,035, Gallatin 1,247, Hardin 574, Jackson 1,922, Jefferson 2,152, Johnson 584, Macoupin 1,757, and Madison, 3,306.

roie 163, Montgomery 1,222, Perry 1,402, Pope 636, Pulaski 1,867, Randolph 831, Rock Island 1,175, St. Clair 10,010, Saline 4,169, Union 618, and Williamson 4,776.

The average American farmer is getting older. In 1940 he was 43 years old. In 1954 he was 49.6 years old.

Indiana Legislator Hits 'Charlatanny' In Hospitalization Insurance Field

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—An Indiana legislator has charged "charlatanny" in the hospitalization insurance field and called upon insurance officials to clean their own house.

Sen. J. Russell Townsend (R-Indianapolis) told the Indiana Accident and Health Assn. Monday that the "business has become the happy hunting ground of hucksters whose business ethics have no scruples, no morals and no quarter for the unwary."

Hospitalization insurance malpractices have not been opposed aggressively by insurance agents and companies, he said. Even law enforcement agencies have not always "done their duty," Townsend charged.

"Our laws should absolutely prohibit the disgraceful schemes of sending gangs of so-called agents to overwhelm a community into buying hospitalization insurance and then stealing away in the night leaving deceit and distress in their wake," he said.

Townsend told the group that during the course of a legislative committee's investigation, it had come across instances where premiums were raised without explanation. Some companies had refused or stalled on settlements, he said. In other instances, it was reported hospitals favored certain insurance companies.

"Any insurance agent knows how gun-shy prospects have become as the result of the charlatans and 'easy money' boys who have infested the field," he said.

Agent licensing laws should be strengthened and enforced as the first step in combatting bad practices in the field, he said. Further, every company "should be subject to civil and criminal prosecution for the misdeeds of its agents," he said.

It takes a GIANT to keep America on the go

There are only 41,785 new car dealers in the U.S. to serve more than 49,000,000 car-craving families. Yet these comparatively few dealers perform a giant selling job in moving more than 6,000,000 new cars a year worth well over $15,000,000,000!

There are only 1,761 daily newspapers in the U.S. Yet every day they roll out more than 58,000,000 copies to do a herculean job of helping to sell America's automobiles from coast to coast.

Car dealers and daily newspapers have much in common. Both are upstanding local citizens interested vitally in local affairs. Back of almost every civic drive you'll find the local car dealer supporting it with all his weight. And right beside him, with equally ardent support, is the daily newspaper.

Car dealers, like others, have learned that the daily newspaper puts plenty of weight behind an advertiser's sales message, too. That's why newspapers, each year, carry the biggest share of automotive advertising. Use this giant to put the weight behind your advertising.

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.

U. S. Shifts to Softer Policy In Syrian Crisis

Play for Time And Moderation In Middle East

WASHINGTON — The United States today placed its military and political strength behind a policy of speaking softly and carrying a big stick in the Middle East.

Officials said this country has important strategic reasons for seeking a cooling-off of the crisis provoked by pro-Soviet forces in Syria. By playing for time and moderation in the Middle East crisis the United States hopes to:

—Keep the situation in Syria flexible by not formally writing Syria off as a Soviet satellite. This would allow Syria, if it chooses, to ease its tightened links with Moscow.

Avoid Pressure Action

—Avoid any action which might put pressure on the United States to intervene in Syria with armed force.

Undercut Soviet propaganda attributing "war plans" against Syria to the United States.

—Assure Israel that the speed-up delivery of previously programmed arms to Jordan, Saudi Arabia, Lebanon and Iraq does not jeopardize Israel's security.

The new American approach to the Syrian crisis is in sharp contrast to tactics followed by the Eisenhower administration only a few days ago.

Alarm Bell Sounded

A series of administration actions and statements sounded the alarm bell. Official statements voiced "deep concern" and outlined the possibility of American intervention under the Eisenhower Doctrine or within the United Nations.

President Eisenhower, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Henderson met at the White House last Saturday in extraordinary session. Arms deliveries to Syria's Arab neighbors were accelerated with great fanfare.

The new and more moderate approach may be tied to the faster arms deliveries to Jordan and other Arab countries.

Sergeant Found Innocent of Abusing Recruits

FT. CARSON, Colo. — Sgt. Jack Riley, 27, a combat veteran from Brunswick, Ga., was found innocent by a court-martial board Tuesday on four charges of mistreating Army recruits.

Riley was one of eight cadremen in Company I, 39th Infantry Regiment, charged with abusing basic trainees under their command.

Six have been tried, and four convicted. Riley was accused of being drunk on duty, calling an unauthorized trainee formation at 11 p. m., trying to coerce trainees to buy company stationery, and requiring a recruit who did not buy stationery to shovel a pile of dirt from one place to another.

Express Thanks for Support of Labor Day Celebration Here

Elmer Grisham, chairman of the Labor Day celebration at the fairgrounds, and Arleigh Phillips, president of the Trades and Labor Assembly, the sponsoring organization, today expressed their thanks to all the business and professional people and local unions for their donations and support which made the event a big success. A gigantic throng was on hand for the musical program presented free of charge to the public Labor Day evening.

State Payroll Higher in July

SPRINGFIELD — The state payroll for July climbed to $16,624,639, an increase of $1,066,621 from the previous month, state Auditor Elbert S. Smith reported today.

The jump was largely a reflection of increased state salary schedules under the new personnel code. The number of all state employees totaled 49,833 in July, a decrease of 1,104 from June.

The figures include state-operated colleges and universities, and exclusive of educational institutions the total number of state employees for July was 39,337, compared with 37,927 a month earlier.

The 49,833 persons on the state payroll in July was 570 higher than in July, 1956. However the number of persons employed in all state agencies except educational institutions increased by 1,132 during the year, while the employees of the state educational institutions decreased by 562.

Total payroll costs for all state agencies increased by $1,202,546, or slightly more than 7 per cent, during the year.

Stratton to Take No Action in Faubus Controversy

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Gov. William G. Stratton's office today reported the governor had decided to take no action concerning the integration controversy involving Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas.

Stratton is chairman of the national Governors' Conference. He declined to comment earlier after Massachusetts Gov. Foster Furcolo recommended that the dispute be submitted to a board of the Governors' Conference for settlement.

An aide to Stratton said in view of the federal government's action in asking an injunction against Faubus to restrain him from further defiance of Federal Court integration orders, Stratton saw no need for a unit of the Governors' Conference to interfere.

Salem Woman to Head Spanish Vets Auxiliary

SALEM, Ill. — Mrs. Ada Duffy, Salem, is scheduled to become the new president of the United Spanish War Veterans Auxiliary next week at Little Rock, Ark. She has been a member of the organization for 30 years and has held every other elective post.

Elect Joliet Man Head of School Building Group

SPRINGFIELD — George Lloyd, Joliet, a real estate and investment firm head, has been elected chairman of the Illinois School Building Commission, the office of the superintendent of public instruction reported today.

The commission was set up by the 1957 Legislature to administer a 10-million-dollar revolving fund to help finance new school construction in elementary districts which have exhausted their bonding power.

Other members of the commission are Clayton J. Schlosser, Alton, and Francis W. Burrie, La Grange. Vernon L. Nickell, the superintendent of public instruction, and state Finance Director Morton H. Hollingsworth are ex-officio members.

Applications for state assistance in classroom construction already have begun coming in, and all applications will be considered on a basis of need, a commission spokesman said.

The commission also tentatively has set up a numbering system as the applications are received during the first 90 days, to provide a basis for selection if there are more equally needy applicants than the revolving fund can cover.

The commission is empowered to construct new school facilities for local school use, with rent-like payments to pay off the costs of construction and maintenance over a 20-year period. Once the building has been paid for, it becomes the property of the local school districts.

Narcotics Agent Shot, Peddler Is Arrested

ST. LOUIS — David McNeely, a federal narcotics agent, was shot in the abdomen and both forearms early today by a known narcotics peddler who was arrested shortly after.

McNeely, 25, was in serious condition at Homer G. Phillips Hospital where he underwent surgery this morning.

Narcotics agents arrested William Hughes, 31, two hours after the shooting at the Trocadero Lounge at 1922 Franklin Ave.

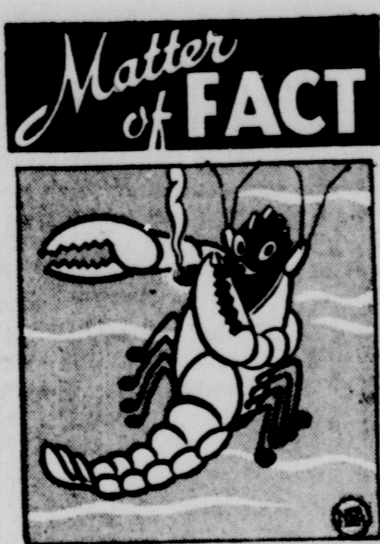

Agents said McNeely was "working on a case" when Hughes walked up to him, pulled out a gun and began firing. The agent did not have a chance to return the fire, a spokesman at the bureau said.

Hughes served four years in prison from 1950 to 1954 for the sale of narcotics. He was arrested at his home by police.

The bureau spokesman said McNeely was not making an arrest when he was shot.

Young Professor With Clothes Afire Leaps to Death

ITHACA, N. Y. — A young college professor, his clothes ablaze, ran frantically along a city street Tuesday, then leaped to his death from a creek-spanning bridge in a desperate effort to end his agony.

He landed on a pile of rocks in shallow water 100 feet below and was killed instantly.

The victim was Raurie David Dunlap, 23, who was to have begun his duties next week as associate professor of radio-television at Ithaca College.

Dunlap, the son of a Lehigh University professor, was cleaning his motorcycle in the hallway of the apartment building where he lived. Fuel from the vehicle somehow ignited his dungarees and T-shirt.

While doing graduate work the last two years, Dunlap was on the staff of station WGBH-TV in Cambridge, Mass. Previously he worked in WHOC in Allentown, Pa., his home town; and WIDE in Biddeford, Maine.

Held on Charge Of Trying to Bilk Evansville Man

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — Oscar Biedenstien, 49, St. Louis, Mo., was held in $1,000 bond today on charges of trying to bilk an Evansville man of $2,150 in a "fake diamond" deal.

Biedenstien was arrested and charged with obtaining money under false pretenses when his intended victim became suspicious and notified a police captain friend.

Clem Frank Jr., a contractor, told Police Capt. Ted Wardrip that Biedenstien offered him 20 "diamonds" for $2,150. He withdrew the money from a bank, after having the serial numbers of the bills recorded. When he gave Biedenstien the money, police arrested the suspect.

The 20 stones in Frank's possession were re-examined and all were determined to be fakes. Three real diamonds he had shown as "samples" were found in a lipstick vial on the salesman's person.

Forecasts at the Weather Bureau's hurricane center in Miami said the next few hours probably will determine whether the raging storm will hit the U. S. mainland or veer into the North Atlantic.

Area Traffic Deaths Decline

DU QUOIN, Ill. — Southern Illinois traffic deaths have been reduced almost 35 per cent in the two months the new 65-mile-an-hour speed limit has been in effect.

Du Quoin state police district, embracing 17 counties, said 15 persons were killed on District 13 highways in July and August of this year. During the same two months last year, 23 deaths were recorded.

Randolph and Williamson counties each had two deaths last month. Randolph topped the accident list with 24 of the 152 that occurred in the district.

Arrests totaled 1,136 last month, highest so far this year.

Pope Calls for Social, Moral Censorship of Radio, TV and Movies

VATICAN CITY — Pope Pius XII today called for social and moral censorship of radio, movies and television.

In the 22nd encyclical letter of his 18-year reign as spiritual leader of the Roman Catholic Church, the pontiff warned of the grave dangers which "can beset Christian faith and morals if the powerful inventions of motion pictures, radio and television are perverted by men to evil uses."

Open Verdict in Highway Death

FAIRFIELD, Ill. — A Wayne County coroner's jury here returned an open verdict in the highway death of Mrs. Joe Sidney Ingram, 45, Chicago, who was killed Tuesday while en route home from a funeral in Memphis, Tenn.

A car driven by Mrs. Ingram's husband left a curve on U. S. 45 at Cline and hit a utility pole.

Her husband, their daughter Wilma Jean, 19, and her brother-in-law, Emerick Ingram, 45, were hospitalized.

Rust causes damage estimated at seven-and-a-half billion dollars in the United States annually.

National President of Presbyterian Women to Be Honored Guest at Meeting

The president of the National Council of Presbyterian Women, Mrs. J. Russell Salsbury of Kansas City, Mo., will be the honored guest at a joint social meeting of the women of Ewing and Cairo Presbyteries Friday, Sept. 20, at 2 p. m., in the lower rooms of the First Presbyterian church, Harrisburg.

She will be accompanied to Harrisburg by Illinois Synodical President, Mrs. Walter Merkelbach, Centra, and the Alton Presbyterian President, Mrs. Everett Butler, Alton. Also present for the meeting will be Mrs. Julius Botsch, Carmi, president of Ewing Presbyterian and Mrs. J. M. Burley of Harrisburg, president of Cairo Presbytery.

Mrs. J. Russell Salsbury

Mrs. Salsbury was elected president of the National Council of Presbyterian Women's organizations at the quadrennial meeting at Purdue University Lafayette, Ind., June, 1954, and will continue in office until the quadrennial meeting to be held at Purdue June, 1958.

During the past three years as the National President of Presbyterian Women she has been a member of fellowship teams visiting Presbyterian Women's groups in Latin America, Asia, Caribbean area, Alaska and throughout the United States, where she has endeavored herself to Presbyterian women and others through her gracious, friendly manner. This is the first time Harrisburg Presbyterian women and Cairo Presbyteries have been visited by the president of the National Council of Presbyterian Women, an organization of over 550,000 women, who were organized on a national basis in 1942. The purpose of the organization is to further the work of the Kingdom of God by uniting the women of the Presbyterian church in spiritual fellowship through a program of prayer, education, service and giving.

The primary emphasis being on the wide work of the Presbyterian church as promoted through the Boards of National Missions, Foreign Missions and Christian Education.

For the current year 1957, the giving to mission projects of Presbyterian women will total over $4,300,000 through the three boards.

The Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian church, which will be hostess for the meeting, is making plans under the direction of the president, Mrs. Paul Halbersteden, for this event to which all Presbyterian women are invited and urged to attend.

The District of Columbia originally included Washington, Georgetown, Md., and Alexandria, Va. The last two were already settled at the time Maryland and Virginia ceded to the federal government land lying within their boundaries for the "Territory of Columbia." In 1846 Alexandria was returned to Virginia, and Georgetown was united with Washington in 1878.

Maine Abandons Early Election

PORTLAND, Me. (UP)—Maine's famous weather vane election, which sometimes pointed the wrong way, was pointed without question today toward its own oblivion in 1960.

The voters of the state decided to abandon the early election in Monday's special referendum election.

Maine will vote once more in September, next year. Then, in 1960, it will elect its officials along with the rest of the nation in November.

This means that the unreliable old political maxim, "As Maine Goes, So Goes the Nation," will no longer be pertinent.

Principal reason for dropping the early election was that in presidential years Maine had to bear the costs of two elections — one for its congressmen, senators and state officials and one for the President.

The state has voted on the second Monday in September since it broke away from Massachusetts and became a state in 1820 — 137 years ago.

Kansas Man Named To TVA Board

NEWPORT, R. I. (UP)—President Eisenhower today made a recess appointment of Arnold R. Jones, a Republican of Manhattan, Kan., as a member of the Tennessee Valley Authority board of directors.

Jones was nominated to the post in June, but confirmation of the appointment was held up by the Senate Public Works Committee. He replaces Harry A. Curtis, a Truman appointee, whose term expired.

Jones was deputy director of the Budget Bureau until his resignation in 1956. He had been dean of financial administration at Kansas State College from 1950 to 1955. For two years of that time, he also served as director of the division of administration of the Kansas governor's office.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

The weather pattern seems to change periodically. Sometimes it varies in strange ways. The last few months have shown a great deal of fluctuation.

Last fall there were no hurricanes in New England. This past spring many of the drought areas were flooded. In the early summer tornadoes ravaged many locations. Even our scientific prediction of weather has not been as reliable as we think it should be.

God alone knows what the weather will be. He alone is able to predict man's actions and reactions. Man is as unpredictable as the weather yet man can become more consistent if he turns to God for help, forgiveness and example.

Men do have freedom of will and freedom to sin. But man is made after God's image and he can follow a predictable pattern with God's higher companionship.

XXV
THE sight of Dan Clement getting tossed like a sack of oats was something you wanted to see, deep down in you, but you never expected to. Now here it was, right in front of my eyes. I wished everybody in Blue Springs who'd stepped aside for Dan could see it, too.

But Dan wasn't done. He couldn't understand what had happened to him but in that dumb way of his, he was making new plans. He got up slow, shaking his head, blood dripping from his nose. Hay and pieces of paper hung onto his shirt. His hat was gone. He stood there unsteady and stared at Blanchard. He threw a look at me, to warn me not to help Blanchard.

Dan stepped closer and lifted his arms. I saw what he planned. He wouldn't rush Blanchard again. He's get in close and grab and once he got those arms around Blanchard...

Dan made his grab, lunging like a hungry bear. Blanchard stepped back fast on his fat feet. Dan almost fell on his face. Dan got his footing, then grabbed again, trying to curl those hairy, muscle-heavy arms around Blanchard's middle. But this time Blanchard didn't step back. He took Dan's arm with both hands. He threw his hip into Dan's leg and heaved. I saw Blanchard's face break into a great straining smile when Dan's feet left the floor. He laughed wild and loud when Dan pitched over his shoulder and hit the floor on his side with a loud thump of boards and a puffing cloud of dust and an explosion that was Dan's wind, knocked clean out of him.

Dan just lay still. Blanchard flicked a look at me. He was still smiling so I smiled back.

Dan got up and stood with his legs spread apart, weaving until he almost fell. He wiped at the blood on his face, never taking his eyes off Blanchard, breathing like he couldn't get enough. He shook his head and grunted and took a step toward Blanchard. But he changed his mind right then. He turned, Dan did, stomped to the left ladder and let himself down it. Me and Blanchard watched his bloody head drop off the loft.

Blanchard looked at the strips and chunks of newspaper and the two-by-fours scattered in the loft. "Sorry, Pike," he said.

"Never mind about that. I can build her up again. It was worth it, just to see it."

BLANCHARD looked around. He walked to the north wall and picked up the rifle he'd been carrying when he came. He brushed the hay and dust off it and brought it to me and held it out. "Here. Compliments of the United States government. Hope it's as good as the one you lost."

It was the best Sharps Amos Carter sold. It was 10 times the rifle I'd lost. "Much obliged, Harney. This one is plenty good."

"Now tell me. What was it Dan wanted?"

I felt mighty sad then, remembering. "He wanted to deal, Harney. He was ready to bring Dorsey in."

Blanchard rubbed his eyes. "My coming up here spoiled it."

I nodded. Blanchard said, "Luck's got to change, Pike. Can't keep on running this way."

I dropped onto my bunk and looked at the blue barrel of my Sharps. If Blanchard was thinking it, I thought I'd better say it. "You got to get used to it, working with me, Harney. Ask folks."

Blanchard snorted. He frowned at me. "Get that out of your head. You're like anybody else."

I shook my head. Blanchard said, "I'll get out of here, now that I've done about all the damage I can. You know if Lillian keeps a gun?"

"She wouldn't use a gun, Harney."

BLANCHARD stared at me for a few seconds. "I'm betting she would. I'll be on the hotel porch. It's just waiting now, tonight and tomorrow. They'll bring him in like we want. Or they won't."

I nodded. It sounded simple, the way he said it. Maybe it was. I said, "What do you want me to do?"

Blanchard pulled on his right ear and stared at me hard. "Now look, Pike. This thing is narrowing down. You got to feel free to step out if you want to. You already helped me more than I had any right to expect."

I felt sick all of a sudden. And mad. I said, "You say so, marshal."

"Cut that out." Blanchard's words slapped me down. Now he was mad, too. I tried to meet his eyes but I couldn't. He said, "People in this world got other things to do than give you trouble. You're no kid. Stop acting like one. If I wanted to get rid of you, you'd know it."

He might just as well have spanked me. I just sat there, rubbing the barrel of the Sharps, thinking maybe I ought to rub my rump instead. I wanted him to understand how it was with me, how hard it was to get used to having a friend.

Blanchard went down the loft ladder. I took the Sharps rifle and looked at it for awhile, then put it down on the blanket, away from the hay and dirt. I had to come back to what was real, then. The deadline. Blanchard thought they'd turn Pete loose by tomorrow midnight. If they did, it was fine for him, for Pete and everybody, except me. If they didn't, Blanchard would have to move and I'd be with him. It came to me bright and clear then how tight trouble had fenced me in.

Most Valuable Players in Summer Baseball Program Guests at Kiwanis

The most valuable players and workers connected with the Kiwanis summer baseball program were guests of the Kiwanis club last night at its meeting at the Masonic temple.

Most valuable players were Zan Hefner of the McKinley Baptist team in the National league; Dale Robinson of the Athletic House in the Three-I league, and Gerald Businaro of the Walker's Cleaners of the Pony league. Don Guley of Dairy Brand in the Kitty league was unable to be present.

They were introduced by Charles Shingler, chairman of the baseball program for the Kiwanis club. He had previously presented each most valuable player with sleeve patches and a baseball with the wording Kiwanis League 1957, with the league name for each player and the words most valuable player.

Also introduced by Shingler were David Nelson, one of the two supervisors for the program. The other was Bill McNew, who was unable to be present. Shingler also introduced Charles Nelson who helped advise him in the operation of the program and who drew up the schedules for the various leagues.

Shingler gave a report of the operation of the summer program and stated there were 20 teams with about 300 players in the four leagues.

Rockefeller Bids To Keep Dodgers In New York

NEW YORK — Nelson A. Rockefeller pledged today he will do "all in my power" to keep the Brooklyn Dodgers in New York but warned he is bucking "a mighty attractive offer by Los Angeles."

Even as other financial bidders began throwing in the towel at his entrance into the Dodger picture, Rockefeller told he United Press he wished he "had made more progress toward keeping the Dodgers in New York" since his initial conferences with Brooklyn owner Walter O'Malley last month.

"I'm going to keep trying, though," said the 49-year-old grandson of John D. Rockefeller Sr., who was one of America's three known billionaires.

Although Rockefeller would not venture to say what his chances were of influencing the Dodgers to stay, other bidders for the club apparently considered them quite good.

"I simply am not in Mr. Rockefeller's league," declared Los Angeles financier Elliott Evans, who offered $5,500,000 for the Dodgers last Sunday. "My offer hasn't been refused yet but I think with every delay the odds go more in Brooklyn's favor of remaining here."

Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles, who once was confident the Dodgers would be playing in his city next year, wasn't quite so sure now that Rockefeller is attempting to keep them here.

"With Mr. Rockefeller in the picture, our chances don't look too good," he said. "There's a limit to how much government can spend."

Robin Roberts Tagged with 20th Loss of Season as Cardinals Beat Phillies, 4-3

By United Press

The once-great reputation of Robin Roberts was little more than a memory today when he entered the 20-game circle — the wrong one.

The durable Philadelphia right-hander, who won 20 or more games from 1950 through 1955, was tagged with his 20th loss of the year Tuesday night when the St. Louis Cardinals kept pace with the Milwaukee Braves by beating the Phillies, 4-3, in 14 innings. The Braves retained their 5-1-2 game lead with a 4-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Roberts, who took over in the 11th inning with the score tied, 3-3, shut out the Cardinals for three innings. But the Redbirds filled the bases on singles by pitcher Lindy McDaniel and Joe Cunningham plus an intentional walk to Eddie Miksis. Ken Boyer followed with a single that broke up the long contest.

McDaniel Receives Win
McDaniel, who took over in the 13th inning, received credit for his 14th win of the campaign compared to eight defeats.

The Braves, with Hank Aaron back hitting second and Johnny Logan back at shortstop, shaded the Pirates as Lew Burdette chalked up his 15th win. Aaron blasted his 40th homer and Ed Mathews walloped his 31st to tie the club mark of 182 homers in a season set in 1955. Burdette singled and scored on singles by Red Schoendienst and Mathews in the seventh for the run that proved decisive.

The Chicago Cubs romped over the Brooklyn Dodgers, 9-2, and the Cincinnati Redlegs whipped the New York Giants, 4-1, in other NL games while the Boston Red Sox knocked the Chicago White Sox six games behind the New York Yankees, with a 7-4 triumph in the only American League game played.

Banks Belts Two
Ernie Banks smashed his 35th and 36th homers and drove in four runs to lead a 13-hit Cub attack that brought Dick Drott his 14th triumph. Drott yielded seven hits and seven walks but left 10 Dodgers stranded. Sandy Koufax suffered his fourth loss for the folding NL champions.

Fight Results

MIAMI BEACH — Willie Pastano, 191½, New Orleans, stopped George Peyton, 192, Houston (8).

PHILADELPHIA — Harold Johnson, 181, Philadelphia, outpointed Wayne Bethea, 197½, New York (10).

DENVER — Alex Miteff, 205, Argentina, knocked out Johnny Holman, 204, Chicago (9).

RICHMOND, Calif. — Bobbie Scanlon, 136, San Francisco, stopped Jack Parelli, 135, Alameda (7).

Harrisburg Drops 6-2 Softball Tilt to Benton In Big 7 Tournament

Harrisburg dropped a 6-2 decision to Benton Tuesday afternoon in the opening game of the Big 7 Junior high school baseball tournament being held at Carbondale.

Thursday afternoon Harrisburg will be host to Ridgway in a Junior high school softball game, to be played on the VFW diamond, starting at 1:30 p. m.

The Daily Register 30c a week by carrier boy.

pitching and Joe Taylor's two-run homer were the big blows for the Redlegs, who dealt Johnny Antonelli his 15th defeat. Lawrence also contributed a single to a Cincinnati seventh-inning rally as he gained his 15th victory of the season.

The Red Sox used three relief pitchers to shut down a three-run White Sox rally in the ninth and preserve Tom Brewer's 16th win. The Red Sox scored five runs in the third inning, climaxed by Jim Piersall's 17th homer, to open up a 7-1 lead which Brewer protected until the ninth.

Rain caused three postponements Tuesday. Games between the Yankees and Indians, Senators and Tigers and Orioles and Athletics were washed out.

No Prediction by Wildcat Coach, Except Team Will Not Roll Over, Play Dead

EVANSTON, Ill. — North-western's football team could be better this year than it was in 1956 and still finish with a worse record than the four wins, four losses and one tie compiled last year, Coach Ara Parseghian said today.

"We've lost our psychological advantage," he said, "but we've got over our big hurdle. The kids know they're capable of winning and they believe in themselves."

"I don't honestly know whether we are better than we were last year. We're not very good in depth, but we've got some promising sophomores, who potentially are good football players. But we're not very many in numbers."

Parseghian could make no prediction as to how the Wildcats would wind up in the Big Ten race, except that "we'll be a threat in any game we go in, and we're not going to roll over and play dead."

Sophs In Slot

Last year the Wildcats, who had not won a conference game in two seasons, had the advantage of surprise on most of their opponents, Parseghian said, and made the most of it.

This year Parseghian will entrust the direction of his second Northwestern team to a sophomore quarterback, either Chip Holcomb, son of the former Purdue coach, Stu Holcomb, now the Northwestern athletic director, or to John Talley.

"They're both very fine sophomores," Parseghian said, "and both of them are going to play a lot of football. Chip's ball-handling is very much improved and his passing very good. But Talley throws a little harder ball. I think we'll use both of them, and both of them are going to be close to the top at the end of the season."

Parseghian foresaw benefits in having two quarterbacks of equal ability because he could coach a bench-warmer and send him into action at any time with full information about what might be done to overcome the opposing defense without losing any ability by his own player.

Need More Depth

"We're going to have more passing this year," he said. "We've got a couple of good receivers and more passing should give us better balance. Last year our passing was bad, but they jammed up on us and we threw to keep them honest. If we can throw a bit this year, it will help shake loose Bob McKiever and Wilmer Fowler."

Fowler and McKiever were standout halfbacks, both very fast and hard-hitting, and Ed Quinn will run for a second year at full-back. Behind them Parseghian counted on sophomores whom he believed would be competent by season's end.

"We'll be deeper than last year," he said, "but we're not up to Big Ten standards. I think we should have five players at each position, about two and a half teams but we'll have about two. It's hurt our practices because we haven't been able to scrimmage like I'd like to."

Parseghian planned to start lettermen at all but two positions in the line, with sophomore Gene Gossage at one tackle and sophomore Jack Siatta at left guard.

"We'll have just about a full sophomore second team," he said.

Musial Eager To Rejoin Team

ST. LOUIS — Stan Musial, crowding baseball's brightest stars for all-time records, remained sidelined today mainly because of his own eagerness to rejoin his St. Louis Cardinal teammates.

The Redbirds have only the slightest of chances to capture the 1957 pennant, but they still hold second place over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Musial's presence in the lineup could make the difference in whether the Cards take the runner-up share in what could be the biggest World Series jackpot of them all.

Long known as a "team man" and the sparkplug of the Cardinals, Stan may have postponed his return to action himself.

Sunday, when his pinch-hit played a key part in the uphill, 4-3, conquest of Cincinnati, he took a full round of fielding practice as well as a long turn in the batting cage.

"I believe his trouble now is a combination of stiffness from the unaccustomed heavy workout and the original injury," trainer Bob Bauman said.

Bauman has been treating Musial with massage and heat therapy since the six-time batting champion suffered a muscle tear and bone chip of the shoulder on Aug. 22.

Since his heavy Sunday workout, Musial has more trouble throwing than hitting, suffering a muscle spasm when he gets the ball away.

When will he return? "By Saturday," Stan said confidently.

"It's a day-to-day affair," Bauman said. "It just depends on how well the thing heals."

Never before in a major league career of 15 years has Musial been out so long. His longest absence previously was in 1947, when he had appendicitis. But even then he played in 149 games.

The longest beaded belt in the world—75 feet—is one of the exhibits on display at the Six Nations Indian Museum near Lake Kashaqua, N. Y.

One symptom of the changing rural society is that many people living on farms today have sources of income other than farming, says a rural sociologist at the University of Illinois.

3,200 Students to Help Pay Own Way by Employment at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill. — The director of student employment at Southern Illinois University said an estimated 3,200 undergraduate students will help pay their own way through part-time employment this year.

Clarence Stephens said some 1,600 students, or about 23 per cent of the expected enrollment, will have student jobs on the main campus.

Another 1,400 will maintain off-campus jobs.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.

And, of all laxatives, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturiz-ing capacity, plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Meeting at Lake Benton Sunday 'Kick-off' for Fall Color Tours

As September arrives Ozarkers get an annual "incurable itch" to go touring through Southern Illinois' Ozarks — among the most beautiful and breath-taking places on earth in the autumn.

The kick-off of the fall color tours is set this year at Twin Oaks Lodge, on Lake Benton. The occasion will be an "Ozarker Get-Together" and the date is Sunday afternoon and evening, Sept. 22.

Host to the Ozarkers—and to all others who are interested in outdoor recreation in Southern Illinois—will be the Benton Camera Club.

The Sept. 22 get-together is designed as a preview of many pleasant weekends ahead, of tours to come. It will be a day for reminiscing, for fellowship, for picnicking and for exhibits, slides and movies on the theme, "Recreation in Southern Illinois."

Registration will begin at 3 p. m. (To get to Twin Oaks Lodge, turn off State Route 37 at south edge of Benton Lake, drive past beach area and follow road to the lodge).

Exhibits and displays will show what is being done to promote and exploit the rich recreational assets of Southern Illinois.

Photo fans are invited to bring slides and movies for projection. These should be restricted exclusively to recreational activities in Southern Illinois and may include such fields as hunting and fishing, boating and other water sports, geology, botany, scenery, historical, archaeology, hiking, camping, picnicking, horseback riding, exploring, wild life and other outdoor events. Slides may be 2x2 or 2 1/4x2 1/4. Movies may be 8 mm or 16 mm, silent or talkie.

The tentative time schedule for the September 22 get-together:

3:00 p. m.—Registration.
3:00 to 5:00 p. m.—Fellowship and exhibits.
5:00 p. m.—Vesper services.
5:20 p. m.—Picnic supper. (Everyone should bring own food and service).
6:30 p. m.—Introduction of special guests and announcements by Geoffrey Hughes, SII.

7:00 p. m.—Projection of slides and movies.

9:00 p. m.—Adjournment.

Visitors will be welcomed to any part of the program, afternoon and evening. There will be no charge.

Travel Doesn't Always Broaden Marriage Chances

NEW YORK —Faraway fields are not so green for romance as they once were. Women who travel to meet men may be surprised to learn that American women now outnumber men as world travelers.

The U. S. Passport Office estimated that about 400,000 women will travel outside the country in 1957, compared with 360,000 men.

Europe is the most popular destination for both sexes. So a spokesman for the American Express Co. advised women tourists to visit other places—Alaska, Hawaii, Africa and Japan. Many more men than women also travel to South America.

Men in the Rockies The spokesmen also suggested Hong Kong, where 170,000 tourists are expected this year. Many of these will be American servicemen stationed in the Far East.

Women with more limited budgets will find an abundance of men vacationing in the Canadian Rockies, most national parks, dude ranches and resorts where sports are the main attraction.

Passport Office figures showed that most male travelers are retired businessmen. Then come engineers, military personnel and business executives. Many doctors, dentists, lawyers, laborers, bankers and brokers also go abroad to see the sights.

Some farmers and ranchers make the trip, but only a few men in small businesses—florist shops, drug stores and interior decoration—go out of the country.

Most women tourists are housewives. Students rank second on the list, then clerks and secretaries.

Children a Problem Another problem arising from the increase in women travelers concerns children. The Passport Office predicted 48,000 Americans 20 years of age or younger will go abroad this year. Many of these are under 12 years.

One airline (TWA) said six per cent of its passengers on international flights in summer are children from two to 12 years of age. About three per cent on domestic flights are youngsters.

With more families going abroad, most European hotels have added qualified baby-sitters to their staffs. Planes and ships have special supplies and accommodations for babies, from disposable diapers and safety pins to powder and cream. Hostesses even mind Junior while parents go through customs.

One word of warning: Always notify the airline or ship if you plan to take your children and if they need special foods.

The use of finger bowls was introduced into America by Thomas Jefferson.

Get 'The Extra Eggs YOU THINK YOUR HENS CAN'T LAY.. Feed Corn or Milo With Staley Egg Atoms'

So you don't believe your good hybrid or selected-strain standard-bred hens can lay 240-270 eggs a year? You're slandering your hens! For today, research in colleges and on thousands of farms shows the right amount and the right kind of protein, with today's modern, high-energy corn and milo, helps hens lay 40 to 70 more eggs per year.

The proved answer to "the right levels" of protein is Staley's Egg Atoms, HYBRIDIZED with more balanced protein and more power for the modern hen.

It is also improved with condensed fish solubles, plus vitamins, minerals, and antibiotics to add more value to high-energy hybrid corn or milo. Of course, if oats' price drops 30% to 40% under corn or milo, some growers start using this grain to cut costs. However, oats is too high in fiber to be efficient with high-producing hens.

This is no "theory" Thousands of feeders have proved the extra-egg-making power of Staley Egg Atoms to "turn corn and milo into eggs instead of fat." Use these low-cost grains.

Ask your Staley dealer now for the Egg Atoms formula that can make your hens 20 to 50 eggs a year better than you think.

Why A High-Energy, High-Protein Feed?

Today's hens are smaller. They have big egg-laying capacity, but lowered capacity in their crops. But—with high-energy grain and the concentrated values of Staley Egg Atoms, they can turn out the 240-270 production level that makes you money!

"What About Me? I've Got Oats!"

"You talk about how Staley Egg Atoms balance high-energy corn and milo," you may say. "But what about the oats I have and can feed?" Staley Egg Atoms (Duo or Trio) get the utmost egg-making value out of all the energy in oats or barley, despite oats' unfavorable fiber content.

How Many Eggs Can Your Hens Lay?

If they're good, modern birds from a quality hatchery, and IF THEY GET THE RIGHT PROTEIN-AND-ENERGY RATION, those hens should be able to give you as many as 270 eggs a year.

Leading college experiment stations have shown how a properly balanced ration, with high-energy grains and enough protein, unlocks the eggs on the high laying strains. For example, poultry researchers at the University of Maryland* showed that for 4 lb. birds on a 930-calorie properly balanced diet:—

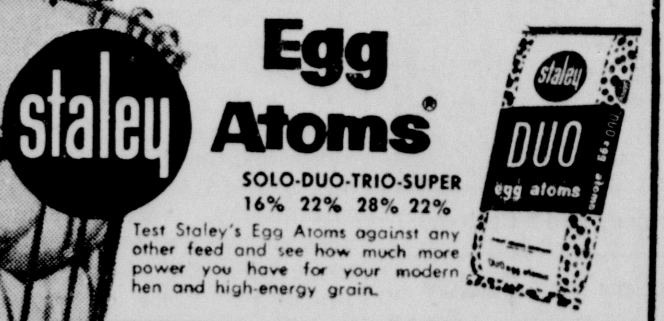

with 14.8% protein, the top production possible was 55%
with 15.6% protein, the top production possible was 69%
with 16.4% protein, the top production possible was 83%

This illustrates why Staley's Duo and Trio Egg Atoms are now "Hybridized" to get the full values out of modern grains.

Balance One of These STALEY Egg Atoms Formulas to Your Farm Grains:

1. SOLO Egg Atoms: Feed straight. Now 16% protein for modern hens.
2. DUO Egg Atoms: Feed with farm grains—corn, milo, oats, etc. Most growers feed 50-50, but for best results with real high-production strains, feed 60% DUO, 40% corn or milo.
3. TRIO Egg Atoms: Feed one part TRIO with two parts corn or milo.
4. SUPER Egg Atoms: A high-power "tonic" feed with treatment levels of antibiotics plus vitamins, etc. Feed 7 days to pullets starting to lay; use whenever disease threatens.
5. PROFESSIONAL Egg Atoms: A high-energy complete 17% protein feed.
